RECORD CROWD AT WARRENTON SHOW

Exhibit of Heavy Draft Stallions and Halfbred Yearlings Is Feature Today.

Any Washingtonian gazing about the ring or the stands at the Warrenton. Va., horseshow on this, the second day of the exhibition, finds himself surrounded by many familiar faces. The crowd today is a record breaker, and though the entries from the stables of local folk are few, many persons prom-inent in the life of Washington dot the gallery overlooking the tanoark arena.

The show today opened with an exhibit of heavy draft stallions and halfebred yearlings. Other events of the day include thoroughbred yearlings. day include thoroughbred yearlings, ladies' harness horses, sporting tan-deins, saddle horses, and green hunt-

SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING CHAPTERS.

The story opens in the trying days of '61, when the North and South were arrayed in deadly conflict and family ties were torn asunder over the grave questions which spil the nation in twain. While at Harvard Philip Grafton, a young Virginian, becomes the affanced husband of Kathieen Kirkwood, whose sympathies are all with the North. When Grafton announces his intention to bear arms for the Confederacy a stormy scene ensues, and results in Philip being sent away with no hope of ever claiming the Northern girl as his bride.

Heavy hearted, Philip goes back to Virginia and enlists in an infantry regiment, with a secret hope that there, perhaps, he may soon find surcease for his sorrow in a speedy bullet from the enemie's guns. Before Johning his regiment Philip visits his old home and finds his guardian, Judge Lewis, in a deplorable state of health. The Judge has a bad attack, and believing that he is about to die, gives his granddaughter Ariadne into Philip's care, with the request that he become her husband.

Although Philip is unable to obliterate the memory of Kathleen Kirkwood, he consents to mariage with Ariadne, and the ceremony is performed at the bedside of Judge Lewis just a few minutes before he Judge Lewis just a few minutes before he passes away.

Philip places his young bride in the care of an old friend in Richmond and joins his regiment on the field of battle.

Philip falls into the hands of Major Burt Kirkwood and George Manning, two old friends fighting in the Northern Army, and they plan to send him to the Kirkwood home, where he may receive the ministrations of Kathleen.

Glenns P. O., Va. - "My baby's trouble began with an itching and then a little bump would come and she could not rest day or night. The trouble affected her whole body. The bumps festered and came to a head and the corruption looked like thick matter, kind of a yellow color. The sores itched so badly until it seemed to me she would scratch herself to pleces and then a sore would form and her clothes would stick to her body and pull off the little scab. In some places she would scratch and irritate the sores until they seemed to be large. She was affected about a year. "First I employed a medicine which did very little good; next I used ---- and - that did harm. So I wrote for a sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I bathed her body in warm water and Cuticura floap and then I applied the Cuticura Ointment and they afforded relief after twice using. I bought some more Cuticura Soap and Ointment and inside of two weeks she was cured." (Signed) Mrs. J. R. Greggs, Nov. 21, 1912.
